

Household Pet Dangers

ASPCA PET HEALTH INSURANCE
WeCoverThat.com/101

PRODUCTS

Not only are the products below dangerous for pets to ingest, but many of them can irritate their skin and eyes.

Ibuprofen and aspirin	Lead
Acetaminophen	Paint thinners
Cold and flu meds	Flea and tick products
Antidepressants	Rodent bait
Vitamins	Mothballs
Diet pills	Fly bait
Anti-cancer drugs	Antifreeze/Coolant
Tobacco products	Gasoline
Detergents	Oil
Fabric softener	Insecticides
Drain cleaners	Pesticides
Oven cleaner sprays	Fertilizer
Disinfectants	Cocoa mulch
Bleach	Compost
Liquid potpourri	Non-pet safe de-icing salts
Lime/scale remover	Lighter fluid

ALWAYS KEEP HUMAN MEDICATION OUT OF REACH

Consumption of over-the-counter medication is the top reason pet parents call the ASPCA Animal Poison Control Center, followed by consumption of prescription meds.*

* ASPCA Animal Poison Control Center internal data, 2015

POISON EMERGENCY HOTLINE

ASPCA ANIMAL POISON CONTROL CENTER
888.426.4435

AREAS

Watch your pet closely around these areas where escape acts and accidents are common.

Doorways	Fireplaces/fire pits
Windows	Gates
Balconies

HOLIDAY ITEMS

We've learned dogs and cats find these holiday items particularly fun to chew, so always be mindful of this if you have them around your home.

New Year's	Halloween
Balloons	Candles
Confetti	Candy
Noise makers	Thanksgiving
Valentine's Day	Turkey bones
Flowers	Hot containers
Boxes of chocolate	Christmas
Easter	Holiday tree
Fake grass	Light strands
Spring bulbs	Tree water
4th of July	Decoration hooks
Fireworks	Tinsel
	Styrofoam
	Yuletide fire

APPLIANCES

These can be hazardous even when turned off if they contain product residue.

Bathtubs	Washer/dryer
Sinks	Pools/hot tubs
Toilets	Grill

PLANTS

Not all leafy greens are good to eat! The plants listed here are poisonous. If any are inside or outside your home, make sure your pet doesn't snack on them.

Algae	Dumbcane	Lupine
Aloe	Easter Lily	Marble Queen
Amaryllis	Elephant Ears	Morning Glory
Andromeda	Emerald Fern	Mother-in-Law
Japonica	English Ivy	Mountain Laurel
Asian Lily	Eucalyptus	Narcissus
Asparagus Fern	Ferns	Needlepoint Ivy
Australian Nut	Fiddle-leaf	Nephthysis
Autumn Crocus	Philodendron	Nightshade
Azalea	Florida Beauty	Oleander
Belladonna	Foxglove	Panda
Bird of Paradise	Glacier Ivy	Peace Lily
Bittersweet	Gladiolas	Philodendron
Black Locust	Gold Dust	Poison Hemlock
Branching Ivy	Dracaena	Precatory Bean (rosary pea)
Buckeye	Golden Pothos	Privet
Buddhist Pine	Heavenly Bamboo	Red Emerald
Caladium	Honeysuckle	Rhododendron
Calla Lily	Hurricane Plant	Ribbon Plant
Castor Bean	Hyacinth	Sago Palm
Ceriman	Hydrangea	Satin Pothos
Clematis	Iris	Schefflera
Cordatum	Jerusalem Cherry	Striped Dracaena
Corn Plant	Jimson Weed	Sweetheart Ivy
Cycads	Kalanchoe	Tulip
Cyclamen	Lantana	Water Hemlock
Daffodil	Lilies (all Liliium species)	Wisteria
Daylily	Lily of the Valley	Yew
Devil's Ivy		Yucca
Dieffenbachia

FOODS

Some human foods have great health benefits for pets, and some are very toxic. It's important not to get the good foods confused with these harmful ones!

Chocolate	Tea leaves
Grapes	Coffee
Raisins	Xylitol
Macadamia nuts	Alcohol
Avocados	Raw yeast dough
Onions	Spoiled foods
Garlic	Fatty foods
Salt

READ YOUR PEANUT BUTTER LABEL

Dogs are pretty nuts about peanut butter, but before you offer it as a treat, you'll want to check the ingredients.

Some brands contain xylitol, an artificial sweetener that is very dangerous to dogs.

OBJECTS

Keep your pet occupied so they're less likely to swipe objects like the ones below, which can injure their mouth and organs, cause them to choke, and make them sick.

Coins	Silverware and dishes
Buttons	Cotton swabs
Jewelry	Hair pins
Nylons	Eye glasses
Yarn or thread and needles	Dental floss
Batteries	Towels
Paper clips	Rugs
Rubber bands	Razors
Twist ties	Electrical cords
Plastic wrap

SWALLOWED OBJECT

TOTAL VET BILL:

$6,941

CHOCOLATE

CHOCOLATE INGESTION

TOTAL VET BILL:

$2,018

BROKEN BONE

TOTAL VET BILL:

$3,718

FRACTURED TOOTH

TOTAL VET BILL:

$2,290

Based on actual claims submitted in 2015. Vet bills and reimbursements may vary.

ASPCA PET HEALTH INSURANCE

BE COVERED FOR THE UNEXPECTED WITH PET INSURANCE

Even when you take precautions to keep your pet safe, they sometimes still find ways to get into things they shouldn't.

We cover that.

We'll reimburse you up to 90%* of your vet bill if your pet gets hurt or sick.

Get your pet insurance quote online or by calling us today.

1-866-692-7472

WeCoverThat.com/101

*Pre-existing conditions are not covered. Waiting periods, annual deductible, co-insurance, benefit limits, and exclusions may apply. For all terms and conditions visit www.aspcapetinsurance.com/terms. Current customers enrolled on product levels 1-4 should visit the Member Center for their policy benefits. Products may vary and are subject to change.